EUREKA! THE SECRET FOUND.

Medical men have been for ages in search of an infallible cure for RHEUMATISM, without success; but the desideratum has at length been discovered.

HEALY'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT
IS WARRANTED TO CURE THE MOST OBSTINATE CASES OF CHRONIC OR INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

This disease is incidental to the climate of California, and thousands in this country are hopelessly suffering from the effects thereof. This Liniment supplies the want so long needed; it relaxes the muscles, removes the pain, and restores health and vigor to the system.

Mr. Healy is in daily receipt of testimonials from parties who have used the Liniment, and the following well known citizens are among the number:

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6, 1866.

MR. HEALY—Dear Sir: Having witnessed many cures effected by your Rheumatism Liniment, I take great pleasure in universally recommending it to those in search of a really good article. Yours, &c.,
FRANK S. SCUDDER.

MR. FRANK HEALY: I suffered considerable rheumatic pains in both shoulders for a long time. I tried many remedies to get relief, but to no purpose. I was advised to try a bottle of Healy's Rheumatic Liniment, which I did, and it has greatly relieved me. I am now using the second bottle, and am confident that in a few days I shall be well. Yours, &c., W. PAGE.
San Francisco, Feb. 9, 1866. 316 Montgomery str.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13, 1866.

To F. HEALY: I have heard much and seen practical proofs of your Liniment, and I endorse all you claim for it. L. COSTE, 315 and 316 Battery str.

To F. HEALY—Dear Sir: Having heard of your Liniment for the cure of Rheumatism, I procured a bottle and used it, and find from the relief I experienced that it is an invaluable article, and something that every person should have who is subject to Rheumatism.
Very respectfully, &c.,
JUDGE SAM'L E. WITHDREL,
Late of Virginia City.

San Francisco, Feb. 12, 1866.

MR. HEALY—Dear Sir: I have used your Liniment for the cure of Rheumatism, and can cheerfully recommend it as a most invaluable remedy for that painful complaint.

THE WIDOWED BRIDE.

Scarcely a child, yet scarcely a woman, Mary Kendale stood there in her white silk and orange blossoms, with the sunlight of the old church window falling upon her as if she had been some sweet mediæval saint. And Colonel Medham, as he held her hand in his, and listened to the solemn words that joined them together, now and forevermore, felt that his cup of happiness was full to the very brim.

"My wife, my dear little child wife," he said tenderly, when they led her away to remove the white veil and fragrant waxen blossoms, in order that she might don her quieter traveling dress. And Mary's blue eyes, clear and liquid as the June firmament mirrored in a clear wild land spring, answered him without the need of words.

Was it strange that Colonel Medham scarcely believed it possible that he, the bronzed, middle-aged man, with grave eyes and serious aspect, could have won the exquisite human blossom to gladden his home? Was it strange that he looked on his happiness as a dream from which he might at a moment awaken?

"Of course it was merely a money match. Any one with half an eye could see through that."

Colonel Medham started as the words fell upon his ears, but the unconscious speaker, standing just within the doorway of an adjoining room, went on:

"She don't care a pin for him personally—she merely wanted his money; but he is too blind," and the voice died away in the buzz of a score of others. One instant Colonel Medham stood there, pale and motionless, like one stricken with the hand of death. And in that instant his resolve was taken.

"Where is my husband?"

The very blood mounted to Mary Medham's cheeks, as she—the wife of a single sunshine hour—spoke her questioning words.

"Call Algernon, mamma; tell him I am quite ready."

She looked sweeter in her traveling dress than she had in all the gleam of pearls and snow-white silk—the fair little creature.

"If you please, ma'am," said a rough-looking man, carelessly elbowing his way through the crowd, "here's a note for Mrs. Medham."

Mary broke the seal with a transient thrill of curiosity.

"I may as well read it while I wait for Algernon," she thought. "How strange! this is Algernon's own writing!" It read:

"MARY—I heard your Uncle Sinclair's words just now—that you cared not for me, but for my money, solely. It is yours, unfettered by me. Good-bye, forever.
"A. M."

Mary uttered a low cry as she clung to her mother's arm. "Mamma, I am not dreaming, am I? Am I wife and widow, both in a single hour?" And she fell like one dead at Mrs. Kendall's feet.

"There is some strange misunderstanding," said Mrs. Kendall, who had grown as pale as a ghost. "Colonel Medham will be back in a few hours."

But the hours went by—and the days—and the weeks—aye, even the years—and Algernon Medham did not come back to the beautiful young wife whose bridal day had been so strangely clouded.

"Only four miles further to Winley village, sir. Keep up a good heart, and we'll have you there in no time at all."

The kind hearted old stage-driver pulled the warm old buffalo robes closer around the wasted figure in the corner ere he mounted to his seat, muttering to himself:

"He isn't fit to travel, nohow. I don't see what his folks could ha' been thinking of, to let him go away from hum. Fever, I s'pose. Well, there's no countin' for some folks freaks."

While Algernon Medham—so weak and faint that the wintry stars above seemed blurs of light against the blue black concave—lay back and indulged in melancholy thought.

"Homeward bound at last! And can it be possible that I am coming home only to die? Well, Winley churchyard is a sweet and peaceful spot—perhaps it is well. I would rather be buried where the fragrance of the violets that purple Medham Park shall be wafted over my lonely grave by the earliest spring winds. I may as well die in the little village inn. I would not darken Mary's bright life with the shadow of death. Perhaps she has married some happier man—if so, I will perish as I have lived, and make no sign. Yet I would like once more to see her, the sweet mistress of Medham Park."

He roused from his gloomy, half delirious reverie, at what seemed the echo of his own words, from two young men who were chatting carelessly on the opposite seat.

"Medham Park! It is the finest old place in the country, and a very pretty romance hangs over its beautiful lady."

"How do you mean?"

"Did you never hear? Mrs. Medham was deserted by her husband—"

"No—never deserted!"

The words broke almost involuntarily from the sick man's white lips, in a husky whisper, that was quite inaudible to the speakers.

"——within an hour of their marriage in consequence of a strange misunderstanding. It seems that a relative of her's was speaking of a money match that had recently transpired, in the bridegroom's hearing, and he rashly concluded the terms applied to him. From that moment to this, he has never been heard of."

"A romance, indeed. And the bride?"

"Remains a widowed bride; in truth, and, indeed, to this very hour. She lives alone at Medham Park, devoted entirely to his memory. If all we hear is true, she must have loved him with a depth of affection that is as rare as it is admirable."

And from that their conversation strayed off to other topics; and neither noticed the strange expressions of the invalid's white face.

"Here we are at Winley, sir. At which hotel shall I leave you?

"Neither. Let me be driven up to the Park."

"The Park, sir."

"Yes, the Park."

How strangely his footfalls sound on the velvet carpets of the stately vestibule—the doors were open as he came forward, leaning on a servant's arm.

Ah! six years had altered her but little, and watchful as ever, she sat by the ruddy glitter of the fire, her golden curls falling like a shower of brightness on her deep mourning dress and on the flushed cheek resting on her hand, while on her lap open lay his own picture—the picture he had given her in the "sweet courting days."

"Mary?"

She looked up vaguely—this was more probably but one of the fevered fancies that had so often led into agonized disappointment.

"Mary—my wife!"

"Oh, Algernon!"

Now, indeed, she knew that it was her husband's self. And springing to her feet, she burst into hysteric tears and laughter on his breast.

The years of patient waiting—the long ordeal of sweet submission—were rewarded at last.

And when the violets of spring time purpled the sunny slopes of Medham Park, the sweet odors floated across no nameless grave, but fanned the forehead of a happy husband, whose fair wife gathered them as she walked by his side, with eyes that were full of unspoken bliss.

WHAT LITTLE FOXES DID.

A TRUE STORY.

I was on a visit to my grandfather, one of the pioneer farmers of Central New York, and we had started out for a ride. The first house we passed was in so many respects like my grandfather's that it drew my attention.

"Your good neighbor seems to have had some ideas like yours, grandfather," I said.

"The man that built this house had. No neighbor of mine now, poor man!" and my grandfather drew a long breath.

Then after a pause, his voice changed.

"These foxes! these little foxes. I hate them! Nobody fears them, nobody minds them, yet they ruin everything. The beasts of prey are not half so dangerous. The little foxes!" he repeated with emphasis, and his tone was very bitter.

"What little foxes, grandfather?"

"Any little foxes, all little foxes; little sins, little weaknesses, little slanders, little debts, I hate them all. They do such mischief; they are so treacherous and ruinous!"

"When they are so little?"

"Yes, and because they are so little."

My grandfather paused. I waited in silence, and he went on.

"I never ride by that house without pain and indignation. You see what a fine place it is; a good house, a hundred and fifty acres of rich land; and yet it went for a silk gown. That was the little fox."

"A silk gown?"

"Yes, it went for a silk gown. And there went with it what was worth greatly more than all of it—a whole family's happiness and hope."

"What is the story, grandfather?"

"I'll tell you. When I first came to this part of the country, a young couple of the name of Brown were settled here in a log house. They were hardworking, self-denying people, and everything prospered with them for years. They paid for their farm, and kept adding to it, till, as I told you, they had a hundred and fifty acres. Then when I had built me a new house, neighbor Brown had to build him one, somewhat like mine, as you see, for he did not like to be behind. I sent my oldest children to an academy in the next town, where they could have better opportunities for learning than were here. After a time, neighbor Brown thought it would be a good thing to educate his children, and sent his oldest daughter to the same academy.

"It was a new expense to him, but he met it cheerfully, and for a time, all went well. The young woman made him stare with her philosophy. The fond father was more than repaid for all his sacrifices on her account. But as she increased in knowledge, so did she in love of dress, and nothing would do her but an expensive silk gown. Her mother put her off."

"We can't afford it, Susan."

"Why not, mother?"

"Because we have no money to pay for it."

"But father can pay for it in things from off the farm."

"Nothing can be spared now. Last year's grain is all sold; so is everything else from last year."

"But father might sell something—a cow, if nothing else."

"No, he needs all the stock he has."

The father entered.

"What is it, Susan?"

"I want a silk dress, father. Mary Stiles has one."

"How will she get it?" interposed the prudent mother.

"I'll buy it for her."

"But how will you pay for it?"

"They'll trust me."

The wife said no more, and Susan had the handsomest silk to be found in the next village, and Brown had a store bill for the first time in his life. He thought nothing of it, as many others had the same, and the merchant encouraged it. It comes a great deal easier to say, "Charge it!" than to hand over the hard-earned cash. They know this, and take advantage of it. And so a man who would not have spent ten dollars at the store if he had been obliged to pay "down," has a store bill of perhaps five times that amount to meet at the end of the year.

"And suppose it can't be met?"

"The merchant puts it into the shape of a note payable with interest, and starts a fresh account."

"Too bad!"

"So it is: but Susan Brown had her fine dress, and Brown had his store bill, and once begun it soon grew too large, and how many debts are not so? The command is wise: "Owe no man anything." Most debts ought never to have been. No one should have an indulgence that cannot be paid for at once. Next year Brown's store bill became a note with interest, but it did not trouble him. Next year another note was given, a larger one, including interest, and an unpaid balance of a second store bill. Heavier interest was not asked for money was scarce. Brown kept falling behind for several years; one sliding downward, it is hard to recover one's self. At length I saw the surveyors at work on that part of his farm lying next to mine. He was with them."

"Going to sell?" I asked him.

"I'm going to give Lyme a mortgage."

"Ah! how's that?"

"He's got some of my notes and want's on."

I pitied him and with good reason. He was never the same man again. An incubus lay upon him, destroying his courage, his very life. If he could not pay his store bill, how could he lift a mortgage? His farm must go; no help for it. The grasping usurer had done his work, had made his own the handsome farm which another man had earned by the sweat and toil of a life, without the sweat and toil of an hour, by cunning, small advantages fastened to a little store debt. How indignant I felt; how sorrowful, too, when my good neighbor put his furniture into wagons, put in his ax, plow and hoe, and took his way to an humble home far from us, to begin life's toil anew; youth all gone, hope almost dead, courage almost failed, muscles and heart weakened. And all this wrong and ruin grew from a little thing, a school girl's gown. Do you wonder I hate the little foxes? Look out for them, child! watch for them! don't let them spoil your vines while you are safe from them. No one is safe.

We rode on in silence, and I mused and trembled. So many little things—life is made up with them—which shall ruin? which shall bless? "God of wisdom direct me," I prayed.

JONES' CORNER.—Jones has been among the spiritualists; he joined a circle the other night, and had manifestations. The medium was a tall, thin, angular, cadaverous individual, who looked as if, after getting up the frame, nature had been seized with a fit of economy, and neglected to put in the underpinning and plastering. The circle was mixed, being made up of elderly females, with a few pretty girls. Jones seated himself between two of the last, and all clasped hands around a table. Jones says it delightful. He squeezed the little hands, and when an unusually loud knock startled the circle, the little hands squeezed Jones'. Sniffins, who is so skeptical that his father don't believe him, was the first to ask questions.

"Where was I born?" asked Sniff.

"In the poor-house." Sniff's turn-up nose waxed red.

"Correct," said Jones.

"How many children have we in our family?"

"Nine."

Here a dispute arose as to whether the spirit rapped eight or nine. So Sniff asked again:

"How many children have I?"

"One," was the reply.

"Probably correct again," remarked Jones.

"The circle is not harmonious," said the medium, in a deep, sepulchral voice. Jones thought it was as he pressed the little hands.

"Let me ask a question?" said a vivacious old lady.

"Is the spirit of my husband present?"

"He is."

"Are you happy, John, without me?"

"Very happy."

"Where are you?"

"In h—ll."

John's relict looked at the medium. The medium smiled. He looked as if he had the tooth-ache. The circle laughed, whereupon John's relict seized the lamp, hurled it at the medium. It broke over his devoted head, and left the circle in darkness. Jones says a spirit kissed him. He tried to seize the spirit, and caught one of the pretty girls about the waist, whereupon there were screams. In the meantime, Jones was aware of a furious engagement on his right. A light was produced, when it was found that John's relict had seized a venerable Cub, mistaking him for the medium. They were separated, when the "medium," with the coal oil dripping over his woe-begone countenance, said "the circle must be broke up," it was not harmonious.—Maca-Check Pre s.

A DISGUSTED ENGLISHMAN.—An Englishman who came out to this country with great expectations of making a fortune, entered into wild speculations in Washoe, was fleeced by sharps, and finally found himself out of funds. Then he of course, as is natural with an Englishman, considered the whole country a vast swindle, a gigantic bilk. To him all was barren. Going into a hotel near Virginia City he sat down in moody silence, gazing vacantly at the bill of fare which the waiter handed to him. He had lost his appetite. "Can't find anything on the bill to suit you sir?" asked the waiter. "No" said the Englishman surlily, "there's nothing to eat in this bl'arsted country." "Would you like a nice sage hen?" asked the waiter. "What is a sage hen?" asked John Bull. "Bird, sir," answered the waiter, "we shoot 'em out in the sage brush." The Englishman looking the waiter sadly in the face, said: "A bird?" "Yes, sir." "A sage hen a bird, eh? Then it has got wings." "Yes, sir." "No, no," said the Englishman shaking his head, sadly. "I don't want a sage hen. D—n anything with wings that will stay in such a country."—Dramatic Chronicle.

OLD AND NEW.—"What do the Arabs of the desert live on, pa?" asked a roguish child of her father.

"They live on the sand which is (sand)wiches) there," he replied.

"Yes; but, pa, how do they get 'em?"

"Well, really, Nelly, you have me there. I give it up."

"Why, pa, you know the sons of Ham are bred and mustard in the wilderness."

"Come, come, my daughter, that is too killing. Don't say another word."

"Oh, yes, do tell me what they eat on their sandwiches?"

"Eat on 'em; why, what do they eat on 'em?"

"Butter, to be sure."

"Butler! How do they get their butler?"

"Why, you know, pa, that when Lot's wife was turned into a pillar of salt, all the family but her ran into the wilderness."

THREE photographers of Warsaw have been sentenced to a fine of 100 roubles each for having produced portraits of Kommissaroff, the peasant who saved the Emperor's life, the shadow of which depicted the head of an ass.

IN 1689, the lightning having struck the steeple of a church in France, there was afterwards found impressed on the cloth of the communion altar the text of the consecration prayer contained in a book lying open close by.

LOTTIE'S HUSBAND.

BY MARY H. DALLAS.

"You won't have him, Lottie?"

Lottie looked down shyly.

"I like him, ma'am, and he likes me."

"But I've seen him drunk, Lottie."

"Just a little high, ma'am, and I'll cure him."

"Don't trust that, child. No woman ever cures a husband of that vile habit."

"Oh, it's not a habit yet, ma'am. Only his mother was going to war, and he had to wish him well in a glass."

"And the other time, Lottie?"

"Then, ma'am, he didn't mean to. It was an accident."

The mistress of the house shrugged her shoulders and left the kitchen.

That evening the servant also left it, with her year's wages in her pocket, to buy a white bonnet, and a silk dress, and marry Jem Broom, the carpenter.

He was a handsome young fellow, and good enough, as a general thing; but whisky was one strong temptation to him, and beer another, and everybody but Lottie knew what the Saturday evenings were, and why he never had a penny in the bank for a rainy day, and was always borrowing tenpences and beaters toward the end of the week.

He did love Lottie, though, and he made an effort for a week or two, and furnished a bright room and bed-room, and, in his bridegroom's dress, was quite as spruce as the bride. He vowed, too, to settle down and reform, and was extremely happy, and entirely sober for a month.

Then, the honeymoon being over, Lottie sat up until dawn one fearful Saturday night, to welcome home a gibbering creature, who informed her sagely that he was—

"Hic! tired t' death, working so late, and that, hic! the bread an' cheese disagreed with him."

Lottie put him to bed, and spent the night in fears, with her head upon a table.

That was the first, but not the last scene of the kind. But, proud as though she had been born a lady, poor Lottie kept it to herself, and answered her old mistress' inquiries in the most satisfactory manner.

Jem was very kind, and she very happy, and was true still, when Jem was not there.

At first, all the days of the week, but Saturday; then, perhaps, an occasional Wednesday; then, a Thursday, or so; then, every evening but Sunday; then Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, and all day Sunday.

It seems strange Lottie should not have hated Jem, when it came to that; but instead of that, Jem hated Lottie.

It is nearly always so. He took to beating her, for pastime; and when they had been married for five years, and had a boy and girl to care for, there was no hope of hiding the truth. Out of work half the time, and spending all he earned in liquor.

On Lottie alone devolved the task of winning bread. No easy one, with her babies. She went out to work, and took in washing. But little by little, the humble household goods were sold or pawned by the besotted man. Once he even pawned some clothes she had just finished for a customer, and so made people fearful of trusting her.

But, in her great woman's love, she buttoned her sleeves over her bruised arms.

Refused to admit to strangers that her spouse was ever intoxicated, and when it came to putting him to bed, in his boots, told the children that "poor father was sick." The too early enlightened children, who knew the reason of that senseless prostration as well as she did.

At last, one bright day, the wretched man wandered away, and staid beyond wifely or neighborly ken.

Strangers said it would be well for Lottie if he were drowned in the pond, or crushed beneath some car wheel; and Lottie wept, and tried to find him.

At last, she gave up the effort, and began to work for her children; an easier task now, than Jem was not there to spend half she earned a ram.

People patronized her. She neither asked or shoeless, or hungry. And so rather eased. Perhaps in her heart she felt that she was more blest in her husband's absence than in his presence; but she never owned it.

She had always been a pious woman, at least; now she began to teach her children holy truths, to guide them in prayer.

One night, she knelt, with her little ones at her knee, in her bare room, and taught them first the Lord's Prayer, then a petition for "poor papa." They prayed to God "to bring him safely home, and to protect him."

They were praying thus when a heavy foot stumbled on the stairs, a drunken howl reached their ears, and some one struck heavily on the door. Then the girl cried, "It's our father!" and the boy lisped: "Oh, don't let him come! Pray do not let him come. Mother prayed a story; we don't want him."

It was an awful revelation of the truth. Lottie dare not rise to open the door. The blows were redoubled, and in a moment the broken door flew from its hinges, and in staggered a thing half human, clad in filth and rags; all that was left of Lottie's husband.

He came close to the still kneeling woman, and demanded money. The boy heard that, and some blows. He waited for no more, but ran, screaming to the neighbors for aid. What happened afterward only Lottie and the drunkard knew.

The people on the lower floor were deaf, and the boy was gone an hour before any one would listen to him. A drunken fight is no uncommon thing; no one likes to meddle with it. At last some men followed the boy. Half way up the stairs a trickling red stream met them. On the landing was a scarlet pool.

"Blood!" whispered one, and they hastened. The child rushed past them. They heard a scream. For a moment they were motionless. Everything was still; no sound of unrest or contention.

"We must go on," said the bravest, and they entered.

Lottie and her girl lay upon the floor beside the door, and both were dead. She had been beaten horribly with an old stool, which lay broken near; and her life-blood had washed over the floor and down the stairs. On the child's temple was only one great purple bruise. The murderer was gone.

A few days after they found him dead upon the road, near a tavern where he had spent the few shillings of which he had robbed his murdered wife. And Lottie's old widowed cook landboy home; and tells this story often when some loving girl pleads for her lover, and says she can cure him, "when she is his wife," of all love for the bottle.

"It can't be done," says the old lady. "Lottie was as good a wife as ever lived, and you know her end. It may not come so soon, but it does come inevitably to wretched women, poverty, and bitter, bitter woe. If any woman ties herself for life to any drinking man, however good he may be otherwise, she binds the devil in a liquid form, and nothing good."

WHAT sort of a thrust is the best for a singer to reach the ears with? A sore throat.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, AUG. 4, 1866.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for liberty,
Flag of the Nation—Talisman of the Free,
Curs'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

APOLOGETIC.—The unavoidable absence of our Editor, and domestic affliction in the family of one who was temporarily filling his place, will, we trust, be sufficient excuse for the dearth of matter in our columns this week.

MIRROR OF THE REBELLION.—Batchelder's Grand Historic Mirror of the American Rebellion was exhibited to our citizens last evening, and the exhibition is to be repeated to-night. The audience last night, though respectable in numbers and select in character, was not so numerous as the merit of the entertainment would have fully justified. Unlike many of the 'shows' which have, by gross misrepresentation, swindled our people out of their money and discouraged their attendance on any exhibition, this company not only fulfills but excels the promises contained in its advertisement. The prominent battles and other events of the late war, and many others incidentally connected with its history are splendidly displayed and most graphically delineated by our old townsman C. B. Plummer, Esq., who, in our humble judgment, has few superiors on the Pacific coast. The instrumental accompaniment by Professor Hers, and the rich vocal interludes of Mrs. Annie Hall, add greatly to the attraction and make this one of the most interesting as it is certainly a highly instructive entertainment. We hope that an overflowing audience will to-night attest the appreciative character of our people—we especially trust that none who can afford the expense will deny their little folks so fine an opportunity for profitable instruction as to the horrors of war and the facts of history.

A DESPERADO CAGED.—A hot-headed "fightist" who humored his propensities and criminaged indiscriminately at Alta on Wednesday last, was brought to a standstill and compelled to heave to and show his papers, by officer James Finnegan, a local policeman at Alta. On their arrival in this town, the limboad fightist allowed his valor to get the better of his discretion and he attempted to "knock the hind sights" off his subjugator and make his escape. As this course of procedure conflicted with Mr. Finnegan's ideas of the proprieties of the case he brought his revolving turret to bear, firing a shot or two across the enemy's bow and compelling an unconditional surrender. Many citizens of Alta, in consideration of Mr. Finnegan's efficiency and prowess, on this occasion, have recommended him to Sheriff Poole for appointment as special Deputy Sheriff to reside at Alta.

ACCOMPLICE CAUGHT.—Mr. John Smith, who does the police-work in Chinatown, and who holds an appointment as deputy under Constable Greely, observed a Chinaman enter a doctor's office on Thursday evening, and noticed that the Chinaman indicated that he was wounded. On the strength of this suspicion Mr. Smith made it his business to watch Sir Mongolian, and, on further observation was led to suspect him of complicity with the sluice robber killed by Mr. Peters on the previous night. Satisfying himself that his conjecture was probably correct, he essayed to arrest John, who threw himself back on his Civil Rights and drew a revolver on the officer. Smith finally succeeded in capturing him and found that he was pretty seriously wounded—the nature of the wound going far towards confirming his suspicions. The resisting Celestial was taken before Justice Aubury, where he is undergoing an examination as we go to press.

PACIFIC GUARDS—NEW ORGANIZATION—On Friday last the Pacific Guard, our local military company, organized in compliance with the requirements of the amended militia law, and elected the following officers:—C. M. Kopp, Capt.; S. Wardner, 1st Lieut.; Thos. Teaff, 2nd Lieut.; J. Mathewson, Treas.; H. H. Greely Clerk. Capt. Kopp announced the following appointments of non-commissioned officers: John Fulwiler, O. S.; Frank Munson, 2nd Serg't.; L. H. Burckhalter, 3rd Serg't.; G. Pickot, 4th Serg't.; J. Davis, 1st Corp'l.; W. H. Keeler, 2nd Corp'l.; S. E. Swenson, 3rd Corp'l.; P. Johnson, 4th Corp'l. On Saturday evening, the company, numbering 70 members, was mustered into the service of the State by Brigadier General Josiah Howell.

SEEK THE SHADOW!—Refer to our list of "New Advertisements;" read there the announcement, by Isaac T. Coffin, of the fact that he has opened a new Photographic Gallery and is prepared to perform every operation in his line, from a lilliputian miniature to a life-size photograph. Mr. Coffin is an old resident of Dutch Flat and, in the new business which now engages his attention, is a "home production." This consideration added to the fact that he combines with the energy he has ever displayed in other pursuits a fine, artistic taste that peculiarly fits him for his present career, and it seems that our citizens should require no prompting from us to induce them to give him liberal encouragement by their patronage.

GOLD PRODUCT OF OREGON.—A late number of the Oregonian contains a statistical table of the gold dust of the Oregon mines for the years '63, '64 and '65, and estimates, which are claimed to be reliable, for '66 and '67, giving a result which has quite surprised us, and convinces that our northern sister, besides her boundless agricultural wealth, is a formidable rival of California in the production of the precious metals. The following are the figures given:

For 1863	$ 8,000,000
For 1864	12,000,000
For 1865	19,000,000
For 1866	30,000,000
For 1867	60,000,000
Total for five years	$129,000,000

REMARKABLE TROTTING TIME.—A trotting match for $2,000—$1,200 to the winner, $500 to the second and $300 to the third horse, mile heats, best three in five, in harness—occurred over the Fashion Course, N. Y., on the 3d of August. Dexter, Gen. Butler and Commodore Vanderbilt started. Butler won the first two heats, and Dexter the three next, winning the race and $1,200. Vanderbilt was distanced.

The following remarkable time was made: First mile, 2:24; second mile, 2:27; third mile, 2:27½; fourth mile, 2:24½; fifth mile, 2:24½.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

CONCERNING THE MEXICAN LOAN.—The prospect of Congress agreeing upon a loan of $20,000,000 to $50,000,000, to aid Mexico in ejecting Maximilian and maintaining her independence, is received with much gratification by the friends of the Mexican Republic at Washington. The resolution authorizing a loan of $50,000,000, introduced by Mr. Wade in the Senate on the 7th instant, occasioned much rejoicing. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

ANOTHER PROP GONE.—Secretary Harlan has resigned, says the Flag, having been disgusted out of the President's Cabinet by the ill flavor of "my policy." This will leave the Administration without the support of one of the most powerful bodies of Union men—the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which the late Secretary is a most steadfast pillar. His appointment to the Cabinet was considered a master stroke of a wiser and better policy.

ASPECT OF THE WAR CLOUD.—The news from Europe continues to be intensely interesting, and is the more valuable since it dates as late as July 27th. What the world is coming to! News from the antipodes in three days! It is reported that peace has been declared, Prussia dictating the terms, her armies everywhere marching with sweeping victory.

In a recent speech General Logan said: "I am one who believes that treason forfeits not only human life under our Constitution, but all rights, civil and political.—(Cheers.)—If that be the case, then traitors have not only forfeited their right to life, but their right to their property."

Prince Frederick Charles, commander of the Prussian army, concluded an address to his troops in this stirring manner:

"Forward then, comrades, with our old motto: 'With God, for King and country!' and with the battle cry: 'Long live the King!'"

The Commissioner of Freedmen's affairs for South Carolina, reports that although there is a scarcity of labor in that State, he is of opinion that the present season will be as productive as most other seasons under the slave regime.

IMPORTANT EVENT.—Among the late incidents most important to the far West States, is the passage of the Mineral Land Bill, to which we shall pay more attention at another time. The Senate bill passed the House without alteration, and will doubtless become a law.

Veterans of the war of 1812 participated in the celebration of the Fourth of July at New York. The glorious old heroes were received with great enthusiasm along the line of march. A few more National Anniversaries and like those of 1776 their race will have become extinct.

A JOHNSON MAN.—It is stated that Randall, the new Postmaster General, was formerly a partner of Beriah Brown in the association known as "The Forty Thieves," in Wisconsin.

HIGH TARIFF.—The rates fixed for messages by the Atlantic Cable, are $5 a word, including name and address. Rather heavy on the more enterprising newspapers of New York.

THE RICHEST WOMAN IN AMERICA.—The Hartford Courant says that Mrs. Eli Walker, of that city, has fallen heir to the enormous fortune of thirty-five million dollars. The windfall came from England.

ANOTHER STAR IN THE WEST.—A bill to admit Nebraska among the States has passed both houses of Congress. If Nebraska will promise to support "My Policy" Johnson will sign it; otherwise, otherwise.

It is asserted that at least ten thousand persons are now on their way from the Western States to the upper section of Oregon.

The Chicago police made three thousand five hundred and ninty-eight arrests during the last municipal year, of which only eighty-four were native Americans.

The Cataraugus county (N. Y.,) Agricultural Society offers premiums on babies this year; fifteen dollars for the best and ten dollars for the second best.

MINERS' MEETING.—At a Miners' Meeting, says the Auburn Stars and Stripes, held at Ophir, Placer county, July 27, 1866, pursuant to call, Capt. J. H. Mallett, was elected Chairman, and Geo. Hogle, Secretary:

On motion, it was—

Resolved, That this meeting adopt, as the law: of this District, the laws passed at a Miners' Meeting, held at Gold Hill, on the 4th of July, 1866.

Resolved, That all those present, who are in favor of the proceedings of this meeting, shall sign them.

Whereupon the following signatures were affixed, to-wit:

J. H. Mallett,	John Woodward,
A. M. Poland,	J. Robins,
J. W. Biderman,	S. D. Calglesser,
Wm. W. Grant,	C. W. Robinson,

A BEAUTIFUL SERPENT.—A few days ago a gentleman of our town caught, between Alta and this place, a specimen of the serpent tribe which we are at a loss whether to classify as scorpion or lizzard, as it combines some of the characteristics of both—having scales and feet like a lizzard and the sting of the scorpion. This specimen measures eight and a half inches in length—the back is traversed by three rows of oval scales, the centre row being bright green in color, and those on the outside of a bronze-like purple. The head is a leaden and the belly a bright copper color—all of these colors—green, purple, leaden and copper, having a brilliant metallic luster. We have certainly never seen anything more gorgeously beautiful. The possessor contemplates sending the thing, which is alive, healthy, ticious and venomous, to the State Fair, where, if it fails to captivate the modern Eves in attendance, they will have demonstrated the advancement of humanity since the days of our first mother to our entire satisfaction.

GIVE THEM A HOIST.—Under the head of "pass them around," the Meadow Lake Sun has the following:

J. H. Ruby & Co., a traveling troupe, with Miss Estelle Potter as the leading star, after being trusted by this office to the amount of $28, left here without paying the same. Printing offices will do well to get the cash, when this crowd comes around, before delivering the work, or they will not get it. We understand that the same troupe also swindled the Dutch Flat Enquirer.

As to the extent to which we were "swindled" by the delectable crowd above referred to, is yet a mystery buried in the womb of the future and dependent on many contingencies. The veracious, winning, seductive youth who acts as quant courier, J. W. Adams, the blazing Ruby who is the bright and central gem of the constellation, and the evidently high-toned Treasurer Morrison who subsists by the exhibition of the symmetrical proportions of his wife's lower extremities—all of these highly respectable and responsible parties assured us that our "little bill" (a mere bagatelle to them, but "heap big money" to us) should be "telegraphed" to us as soon as they made a connection with the proper line. The lapse of time that has intervened without a remittance has left us floundering among a dozen different hypotheses. Perhaps the young men intended to use another and kindred phrase, and, instead of "telegraphing" meant to "steamboat" our little affair through when the opposition steamer the S. M. Whipple, commenced her regular trips. Perhaps a connection with the great Atlantic cable was required to put them in communication with their London correspondents, and the rush of business over those wires since completion has compelled the delay of dispatches for J. H. Ruby & Co. Perhaps Overend, Gurney & Co.; Sir Morton Peto, Bart., or some other defunct institution has defuncted their funds. Perhaps the Emperor of Austria was the foreign depositary of their accumulated funds, and the late disastrous failure of that potentate has prevented their keeping their word. Perhaps—perhaps—perhaps we're billed. For the present—Quien Sabe?—Nous verrons.

ALL ABOUT FLIES.—The following, received just as we go to press, explains itself. The writer, if he had been better acquainted with newspaper customs, would have known that the matter to which he refers was copied, and only published as such for what it was worth. We give his communication, which is somewhat racy, verbatim et spellatim—there was no punctuation to it, or we would give that: mr D—I wus a layin on the flore of my settin-room last sondsy, with a Piller under my hed, when my little gurl cum too me with a copy of yoor papur and sed it sed how too kill flys. it wus too take haf a teespoon of blackpepper, 1 teespoon of brown shugger, and 1 teespoon of Kreme—mix well—put in a room on a plate, where the flys are trubblesum, and they will soon disappere. My littul gurl wanted to no if i bleeved in it—i tole hur the flys wus trubblesum an the stuf wus cheep an she'de bettur tri it. So off she went—hur hare a flyin an hur hupes a tiltin, es lyvely es a Kricket. She wus es purtickler mesburin the engreedyents es a Docktur mixin meddisin fur a desprit Kase. Bimeby she spred them on a plait in the Kitchin an cum an set down in the settin-room as stil as a mous, fur fere uf disturbin the flys. In abowt 2 howrs, she got up an i got up an we went too the Kitchin, when shore enuff, they had disappered—not the flys, mind you, but the ingreedyents—the flys wus twice as plenty an a heep moar trubblesum. Then we begun to see that rude put it in yure paper for a joke, but it wus a durned teejus way of findin of it out. You kin stop mi papur, ur stop sitch infurnal jokes.

SEDUR PINT July the 24, 1866

Yure til deth,
JOHN D. ANSON.

ROBBERY.—A couple of teamsters were robbed, says the Grass Valley Union, early on Monday morning, July 30th, down on the Marysville and Grass Valley road, and the teamsters have good reason to believe that they were robbed by the same parties who overhauled Roberts and Bell on Sunday night last. Efforts were made to capture the highwaymen, but up to the present writing they have not been taken.

STRUCK IT RICH.—Soon after the report in regard to the discovery of the Italian ledge became circulated, says the Nevada Transcript, a lady, whose house is located on the ledge, went to work in her cellar, and after digging away two weeks found the lead. The rock presents an excellent appearance, and will no doubt prove rich. For several days past the lady has had two men at work taking out rock and opening the lead.

AKD WARD GOES MARCHING ON.—In today's paper will be seen, under the head of new advertisements an appeal to the people of "hereabouts" from the industrious Ward of the Bay City to be sure and buy "Ward's Perfect Fitting Shirts," for they, of all others are the best. Read his manifesto and when buying a shirt "ask for Ward's" and take no other.

BORN.

In Dutch Flat, July 27th, the wife of J. W. Morris, of a daughter.

In Dutch Flat, July 29th, the wife of D. Shankland, of a son.

DIED.

In Dutch Flat, August 1st, Mrs. Mary A., wife of W. A. Selkirk, aged 27 years.

The subject of this sketch came from the state of Missouri with her husband in the year 1850 to Sacramento where they resided four years and then removed to Iowa Hill in this county, and resided in our county almost continuously ever since. Her life has been singularly marked by a strong and consistent adherence to the tenets of the Christian religion ever since she arrived at the years of understanding, and during the many years of vicissitudes through which she has been called to pass has been invariably remarkable for her reliance upon the truths and promises which she adopted in early years. As a neighbor Mrs. S. was noted for her sociable and kind qualities, drawing many and warm friends around her who mourn her demise. To her husband and family she was all that could be expected as a loving, obedient wife and an indulgent, affectionate mother, whose place it is impossible, in human expectation, to fill. She had at her death seven children, the youngest of whom is 19 months old. May the God of Mercy and Justice deal kindly with these newly made orphans and raise up to them friends where the orphan most needs them. We desire to offer our sincere condolence to the grieving family in this their first, greatest and most irreparable affliction.

CONSTABLE'S SALE.

BY Virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered, issued out of the court of N. D. Traphagan, a Justice of the Peace in and for Township No. 4, County of Placer, State of California, on a judgment rendered in said court on the 6th day of December, A. D. 1865, in favor of L. Powers & Co., and against J. Openshaw for the sum of sixty-nine and 75-100 dollars, together with interest and costs of suit taxed at seventeen and 75-100 dollars. I have this day levied upon and will expose to public sale, to the highest bidder for cash, in front of the Justice's office in the town of Colfax on Wednesday, the 15th of August, 1866, at the hour of 2 o'clock, P. M., all the right, title, interest and claim which the said J. Openshaw had on the 2nd day of July, 1866, or has since acquired in and to the following described property to wit: one town lot and building thereon, situated in the town of Colfax, County of Placer, State of California, and known as Openshaw's saloon, bounded easterly by the Railroad Market, westerly by B. Brickell's Meat Market, and fronting Main street. All of which named and described property I shall sell as aforesaid, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the above judgment, together with the costs due and to become due thereon.

J. KECK, Constable.
Dated July 30, 1866. By C. QUEEN, Deputy.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Ritzner Quartz Mining Company, held in the town of Iowa Hill, at 2 o'clock, P. M., on the 4th day of August, 1866, for the purpose of electing officers to serve until the next annual election, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

By Order of the President.
Iowa Hill, July 19, 1866. JAMES DODS, Sec'y.

DISSOLUTION.—The co-partnership heretofore existing between Mayer & Downer in the saloon business at the Golden Eagle Hall, Dutch Flat, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be continued at the same stand by R. H. Downer, who will settle all debts and receive all dues of the firm. Those having accounts against the late firm are requested to present them immediately, and those indebted will please settle promptly.

BEFORE JUDGE AUBURY.

Arrested July 29th.—Frank Lovell, tried for assault and battery on Amos Rodgers. Jury did not agree. Tried for carrying concealed weapons; jury did not agree. Next day plead guilty and was fined forty-five dollars. Ran away on the first day of trial and was recaptured at Colfax.

July 31st.—Amos Rodgers tried for assault and battery on Lizzie Wells; plead guilty and was fined $20.

July 28th.—Esther Mandes accused of obtaining money under false pretences. Acquitted.

August 1st.—John Chinaman convicted of Petty Larceny (stealing chickens). Same one who was found by Mr. Joseph Baker robbing his cabin some time ago. Sentenced to six months in county jail and five hundred dollars fine.

CONCERT AND FESTIVAL.—The managers of the Methodist and Union churches, respectively, have catered to the taste of our citizens since our last issue, the former by a concert, on Sunday evening, and the latter by a blackberry festival on Thursday evening. Both of these entertainments, as is universally the case when our people are appealed to in church behalf, were decided successes. The concert yielded all that was required for Sabbath School purposes and left a balance for the minister, Rev. N. R. Peck, equal to the usual Sabbath evening collection. The festival was largely attended by a delighted assemblage netting the very comfortable sum of $103 85.

CHINAMAN SHOT.—A Chinaman who was engaged in a sluice-robbing operation at the Somerset claim on Wednesday night last, was shot, while so engaged, by Mr. August Peters who was acting as watchman for an adjoining claim and included the Somerset sluices in his beat by request of Mr. Staples the watchman of the Somerset on the occasion referred to above. An inquest was held by Justice Aubury and the jury rendered a verdict consistent with the above facts.

NEW PHASE OF TOADYISM.—The San Francisco Call, in its sycophantish devotion to "my policy," is forced into the use of newer or less familiar terms for Presidential idiosyncracies or habits, than those in common use. Hence, we find that journal reporting the diurnal "dead drunks" of the metropolis, under the head of "Crapulous."

SUICIDE AT RIO VISTA.—We learn that Jas. Alexander committed suicide at Rio Vista on Saturday, the 28th of July. He was about sixty years old, and was formerly of Sacramento. He was found with his throat cut from ear to ear. The probable cause of his committing the act was embarrassment in business.

A FORGIVING WOMAN.—The Grass Valley National indulges in the tender while relating a case of outrage on a woman by a former husband. It says:

Mr. and Mrs. Vanness Lamorge, after having lived together in the happy relations of man and wife for a period of years, were recently divorced by a mandate of the District Court, issued upon the petition of the wife. Louis Vanness, the husband, finding himself thus left without a h lpmate, and being deprived of the privilege of occupying the interior of the Miners' Hotel, in Boston Ravine, has lately been in the habit of throwing stones and other missiles at the windows of the house. Mrs. Vanness that was has borne these repeated insults uncomplainingly. The thing being carried to too great an excess, however, she was forced to file a complaint, and have her husband that ought to be, arrested upon a charge of malicious mischief. The case was set for Tuesday, July 24th, but was subsequently postponed. At the appointed hour the case was called, but the prosecuting witness declined to press the charge. With tears in her eyes she declared that she did not desire to have him punished—all that she wanted was to have him stop throwing stones at the house. Thought of the joys they had known in "days o' auld lang syne," when Louis was a sober, well-to-do man of business, had evidently flitted across the mind of the injured though forgiving Margaret, and she could not find it in her heart to stand up and give testimony that might consign the husband of her happier days to a prison. Under the circumstances, Judge Byrne discharged Vanness, with an admonition not to annoy his ex-wife any more, under pain of being made to suffer the fullest punishment prescribed by law.

AN Oregon paper is alarmed at the sudden influx of Chinamen into t at State. The paper says:

It would appear that the long tailed, moon-eyed nuisances from China were about to take Oregon. Since the crusade against them in California has been commenced, our city seems to have become the receptacle of all the filthy rats that have been imported from the Empire for years. They are flocking in herds upon us, both by land and sea. Yesterday a drove of about sixty, with their long poles, baskets and haggage, came on foot from the south. In answer to an inquiry of one of the Tykees as to where they came from, and what was the cause of this exodus, John replied with an air of doubtful caste, "Chinaman no likee Yleka, Malaysville, Auburn, all over California: come Olegon, Mellican man no catchee Chi aman here."

SPIRITUAL ROPE TYING.—the New York Times says: "A public room on Broadway was filled on Sunday night to witness the antics of tying up a feeble young woman with ropes, in a portable cupboard, and allowing her time, either to invoke some able-bodied resident of the other world to untie her, or to struggle to do the thing herself. The unfortunate girl thus put on exhibition seems to have prayed in vain for spiritual assistance to undo the ropes. She seems to have also struggled in vain to undo them herself. The result, after long and frantic effort, naturally, was a real fainting fit, with very little spiritualism, and no sham at all about it."

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS!
A PURE AND POWERFUL TONIC,
CORRECTIVE AND ALTERATIVE,
—OF—
Wonderful Efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fever, Cramps, Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, whether arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system, or produced by special causes.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME. A genial and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fierce excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of balsamic herbs and plants, with the mildest and purest of all diffusive stimulants.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be appreciated. In case of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises an electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to reinforce and re-establish them.

The weak Stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA, and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apparient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habits, Liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

Last, though not least, it is the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and somachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

RHEUMATISM.

Throughout this Coast a great deal of suffering is experienced from Rheumatism. Weeks and even months of protracted and aggravated misery is endured by the victims of medical inefficiency and ignorance, which could be cured just as speedily as was Mr. Sparrow, whose testimony is given below, and is only the echo of hundreds of other cases. Dr. Bourne cures without medicines, which accounts for his extraordinary success.—No. 10 Masonic Temple, Post street entrance.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6, 1861.

Dr. Bourne:—Last winter I was nearly dead, by an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered the most excruciating pains for about five weeks, without any hope of relief, when a friend hearing of my illness, called to see me, and assured me that if I would stop drugging and doctoring, and go to you, that you would have me walking about the streets in three days. Sure enough, although I was utterly helpless, and conveyed to your house in a carriage, lifted into the bath, yet, on coming out of it, I hobbled myself, doing much towards dressing, and, without assistance, walked from the bath to the carriage. On the fourth day I discharged my carriage and walked with a friend's aid, the entire distance to your house (nearly a mile) and home again, and so on until cured. I fit myself a well man. And now I am happy to do you this little service of publicly certifying to the simple truth, leaving it to do its work among my friends and acquaintances as may chance to see this.

Your friend, JOSEPH SPARROW.

CONSULTATION.

An Interesting Letter.

Very few persons, even among physicians, would have been willing upon any terms to have been in the condition of the writer of the following letter on the 14th of February last. I will anticipate somewhat his report in the latter by stating that on the 15th of August last he made me a visit, "the very picture of health." Time, which tries and proves all things, has sufficiently tested this case, and shown that neither relapse nor collapse have followed it; the cure is perfect; and can be cited among the scores of similar ones as the result of my improved mode of treating diseases without medicine.

G. M. BOURNE,
Water Cure Physician,
No. 10 Masonic Temple, Post street

SACRAMENTO, April 30, 1865.

DR. G. M. BOURNE—Dear Sir:—It is with pleasure and satisfaction that I now let you know of my good health. Looking back upon what I have passed through, it seems as if I had been lifted from the grave, and I think it my duty to acknowledge to you and the world the benefit I derived from water treatment as administered by you in your celebrated baths. It was in August, 1864, when disease developed itself with a severe cough. I then took medicines, getting worse with chills, fevers, loss of strength, and was pronounced consumptive. This set me to thinking, and finally I determined to leave my business and go to the Sandwich Islands, having been informed that I could not be cured here. I went to San Francisco, and while waiting for a ship called upon Dr. Bourne, who stated that a trip to the Islands would probably result disastrously, was wholly unnecessary, as I could be speedily cured at his establishment. I placed myself under his treatment, and in one week was so improved I thought I could risk returning home and do my duty as Engineer on the Central Pacific Railroad. The Doctor objected, but I thought I knew better, and returned to duty. In about two weeks my cough returned, and I kept getting worse, and contrary to Dr. Bourne's injunction never to take medicine again, committed that folly, and soon was so completely run down that I could scarcely walk; so, as a last resort, I concluded once more to try the Water Cure. I went to San Francisco—few of my friends expecting me to return; in fact, I thought my return doubtful. On arriving at Dr. Bourne's establishment (February 14, 1865,) I was unable to get into the bath without assistance, but in a few days I began to recover myself again. I remained with him only six weeks, when I felt "a wiser and better man," without the aid of medicine. I have now been at work several weeks, and find that I am gaining every day, and at present bid fair to be stouter than ever before. Persons visiting the Doctor's establishment find it just what it should be, both in the Ladies' and Gentlemens' Departments, and I cannot say too much in praise of the Doctor's kind attentions to his patients.

This letter I write for the benefit of all the afflicted, to be used as the Doctor decides, and should it be the means of directing any to his care and treatment who (as they assuredly will) find relief, I will be paid for my trouble. JAMES CAMPBELL,
Engineer Central Pacific Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22, 1865.

Advised by the undersigned, Mr. James Campbell, of the Central Pacific Railroad, (who was then in a most deplorable state of ill health,) placed himself under the care of Dr. Bourne, the Water Cure Physician. Some six months afterward he visited the city, when I accidentally met him at Dr. Bourne's establishment, and am happy to say, restored to the enjoyment of good health, and in fine spirits. JOHN SULLIVAN.

☞ Dr. Bourne treats all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs—which includes diptheria, bronchitis, incipient consumption, pleurisy, croup, etc.—with greatest success. Great relief is afforded in advanced stages of consumption. Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, fever and ague, dropsy, etc., are also cured quickly, pleasantly and economically. No medicine whatever.

Confirmation Strong as an Interesting Letter.

SACRAMENTO, November 23, 1865.

DEAR DOCTOR:—I received your letter a few days since asking for my photograph, which I will attend to as soon as convenient. At present I am very busy, on account of the stormy weather, being out at all times, both night and day, and am enjoying very good health, apprehending no danger, if properly careful, as every one should be. I have read my letter in the "Call" and other papers, and have been asked several times concerning it, and whether it is correct, and I say I can vouch for its contents, and more if required, and so can a great many others who knew me at the time.

I remain your friend,
JAMES CAMPBELL.

To DR. BOURNE, San Francisco.

Dr. Bourne takes the liberty to publish the above as many persons had prophesied his relapse into his former condition, on returning to his duties, of the writer of "An Interesting Letter," whose statements concerning the cure of a well defined case of consumption have recently attracted so much attention to the Water Cure, as improved upon and practiced by Dr. Bourne. This additional testimony must prove satisfactory to all reasonable minds. It should be remembered that Dr. Bourne uses no medicines whatever, and that his patients almost universally are those who failed to receive relief from the medical practitioners; yet they are cured with great rapidity, and in a pleasant and agreeable manner No. 10, Masonic Temple, Post street entrance. jy14 3m

CALIFORNIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand in the mines. Its daily use will the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Dec9-3m

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE.—Dr. Maggiel is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all-healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that MAGGIEL'S BILIOUS, DYSPEPTIC AND DIARRHŒA PILLS cure where all others fail. Which for Burns, Scalds, Childblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin MAGGILL'S SALVE is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGILL 11 Pine street, New York, R. H. HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism, it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco. Dec-3m

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine qua non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others, to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt the consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

AT LEAST two-thirds of the Diseases with which the human family are afflicted, are brought on by the want of attention to the condition of the Blood. Whenever the blood becomes impure, no matter from what cause, the effects of such impurity are immediately felt, either in one way or another; and unless measures are at once taken to remove such impurities, the whole system becomes affected, and a long fit of sickness and sometimes death is the result. Dr. Samuel Adams, a well-known Chemist of San Francisco, has discovered certain herbs and roots, mostly of California growth, which he has combined with Sarsaparilla and Iodide of Potas, and succeeded in producing a Medicine that, while it is entirely harmless in every particular, will in short time completely eradicate from the Blood all impurities of whatever nature, and will restore the patient to perfect ROBUST HEALTH. The preparation is called "ADAMS' BLOOD PURIFIER," and is for sale at wholesale at the United States Drug Store, corner of Bush and Powell streets, San Francisco, and by Dr. D. W. Strong, Dutch Flat. 40

FRENCH MEDICAL OFFICE.

DR. [illegible] PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the University of [illegible], Graduate of the University Queen's College and Physician of the St. John Baptiste Society of San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT has pleasure to inform patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 8, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs, entrance either Montgomery or Sacramento streets.

DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility. The results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in Impotency and Sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and moderity dictates the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., often their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life and the bitter fruit tasted long afterwards. patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptoms: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Urethra on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded, and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writing or the society of friends, etc. The pat

STRANGE CRIMINAL CASE IN FRANCE.—The most curious and interesting point of law has just furnished matter for trial, perhaps without parallel in the judicial annals of the country. The Procureur Imperial, whose office is to bring forward proof of guilt, was here employed to exonerate the prisoner from crime, while her own advocate was eager in maintaining the proof of her guilt. A lady, moving in a good position in society, had long been living in a state of legal separation from her husband; but finding that way of life to be greatly wanting both in comfort and convenience, she resolved to improve the separation which the law had pronounced entire by making it eternal. Accordingly, remembering her husband's taste for fruit out of season, she sent him in early spring, as from an unknown hand, a little basket containing all kinds of delicate hot-house fruits; amongst others, seven superb strawberries, which, as she had expected, the receiver devoured with the greatest glee. Strange to say, the husband on the reception of the anonymous present, never thought it could be sent by his wife; but the moment he turned cold and shivering, and sick with dreadful pains and cramps after eating the strawberries, he felt sure that she was the donor, and no other. The residue of strawberries being analysed, was found to contain oil of creton tiglium. Accordingly the lady was arrested. The basket was proved to have been dispatched by her. She was duly tried, and of course, acquitted of the charge of an attempt to murder. But the husband, not content with the decision, drags her once more before the tribunals, determind to have her condemned for something, and charges her with the administering of noxious drugs calculated to cause disease and danger. Now comes the admirable spectacle of one of those legal tournaments where wrong becomes right and right becomes wrong. The lady having been already tried for murder and acquitted, her advocate must now prove that she administered poison in sufficient quantity to cause death, or she will be certainly condemned for the serious offence above mentioned. The Procureur Imperial usually called upon to prove guilt is now urgent in his protestations of the lady's innocence, for if guilty she will be lost to condemnation. Debates run high. A maximum is fixed, and it is declared that the administering of one gramme of oil of creton tiglium may constitute murder. Each strawberry eaten by the husband is supposed to have contained about twenty centigrammes of the noxious drug; there were seven in number, so that the whole quantity must have amounted to one gramme and forty centigrammes over. So the intent to murder being fully proved the lady is acquitted and goes on her way rejoicing.

TOO MUCH READING.—I never knew but one or two fast readers, and readers of many books whose knowledge was worth anything. Miss Martineau says of herself, that she is the slowest of readers, sometimes a page in an hour; but what she reads she makes her own. Do impress this on E——. Girls read too much and think too little. I will answer for it that there are few girls of eighteen who have not read more books than I have; and as to religious books, I can count upon my fingers in two minutes all I ever read, but then they are mine. Sir Erskine Perry said the other day that, a fortnight ago, in a conversation with Comte, one of the most profound thinkers in Europe, Comte told him that he had read an incredibly small number of books these last twenty years—I forget how many—and scarcely ever a review; but then, what Comte reads lies there fructifying, and comes out a living tree with leaves and fruit.

Multifarious reading weakens the mind more than doing nothing, for it becomes a necessity at last, like smoking, and is an excuse for the mind to lie dormant, whilst thought is poured in, and runs through, a clear stream, over unproductive gravel, on which not even mosses grow. It is idlest of idleness, and leaves more of impotency than any other. I do not give myself as a specimen, for my nervous energies are shattered by stump oratory, its excitements and reactions, but I know what reading is, for I could read once, and did. I read hard, or not at all—never skimming, never turning aside to merely inviting books, Plato, Aristotle, Butler, Thucydides, Sterne and Jonathan Edwards have passed like the iron atoms of the blood into my mental constitution.—F. W. Robertson.

TELEGRAPHIC BLUNDER.—A gentleman at Albany, New York, who is somewhat envied for his social culture and chivalry, recently had occasion to telegraph to some lady friends in New York City as follows:

"Miss —— goes down this evening to complete her bridal trosseau."

The message was so received at the general office, whence it was forwarded over the city line to an uptown office. The gentleman, afterward calling on the ladies to whom the telegram was addressed, was received with that air of offended dignity which only ladies can command, who, in reply to his request for an explanation, demanded why he had presumed to send such a dispatch, which, being produced, read, to the horror of the gentleman, thus:

"Miss —— goes down this evening to complete her bridal trowsers."

STRONG TESTIMONY.—A man who doesn't like our paper, says the Humbolt Register, was in the other day, and happened to see and recognise a box of the Mousard corn troches; said he "Them things, for a wonder, is good—just what the receipt says they are." We had not tried them yet, and asked the fellow if they would stick. "Yes—stick—stick—everlastingly. I had two that stuck on two of my corns six months—long after the corns was cured." Surprised we expressed the opinion that they ought to yield when one washed his feet. "O, yes," said the fellow, "they cum off the minute water teches 'em."

A CAT STORY.—The Wolfborough New Hampshire News tells the following story:

"It is an old saying that eats love fish, but will not wet their feet to catch them. However correct this reflection upon the race may be in general, it is not true of a certain puss in this village. Mr. George H. Wiggin has a cat that catches her own fish. A day or two since she tugged bravely from the lake a big horned pout. The fish was alive, and puss had evidently been under water, and the exhausted condition of the cat showed that the contest had been a severe one. We are told this is not the only instance in which puss has furnished herself and family with a mess of fish from the lake."

THE biggest fish ever caught in the western country was hauled out of the Mississippi, opposite St. Louis, recently, in a seine. It measured six feet nine inches in length, and weighs sixty-four pounds. It looks like a shark, and has forty teeth in its head.

MRS. PARTINGTON remarked the other day that "she had a resentment that she should eventually die in a prance," adding that "the resentment troubled her a great deal, but she expected finally to get immured to it.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALE and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the check, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame: they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles in dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be Satisfied with Partial Cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT SPEEDY and PERMANENT,

Cures are always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorhea and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostrate; Seminal Weakness: Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Imposency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, NO PAY REQUIRED, at the

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORRHOEA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion inaccountable fatigue of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life drifting out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skilful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to intercose, and by the assertion of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

Sent by Mail or Express, to any part of the State. The GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE! PREVENTIVE POWDERS for MARRIED LADIES. New, Safe and Infallible, lasting from four to six months. Price, $10. TO THOSE WHO ARE ABOUT TO BUY or Subscribe for the Campaigns of
GRANT AND SHERMAN,

Read the following recommendations and decide which of the HEADLEY'S Books you will take:

J. T. HEADLEY has a NATIONAL reputation as a Historical Writer.—American Flag.

He has great command of language, and describes scenes, and places, and men, with singular clearness and felicity. The style is brilliant.—San Francisco Bulletin.

The heroic deeds of our gallant Generals are thrillingly told, and from first to last, the book is one of absorbing interest—Contra Costa Gazette,

No subscription books have equalled in popularity those of J. T. Headley.—Marysville Appeal.

This work is the most complete History of these Campaigns which we have seen; and Mr. J. T. Headley, by his spirited style, has given it more than the interest of a romance.—Californian.

We do not hesitate to say it is one of the very best and most popular works ever offered to the public—Oregon Sentinel.

The editorials are of the ablest character; the news department is presided over by the best talent of the country, and the miscellaneous matter is evidently selected by editors who are adepts in the business. In short, it is a tremendous newspaper, and what we admire quite as much, a very handsom one.—TRINITY JOURNAL.

Many of the leading articles in the AMERICAN FLAG, when carefully perused, cannot fail to make the lover of his country tremble. They are unmistakably a plain chess-board of the future, and will serve as a beacon light on the political paths of the nation. A large number of these articles are worthy of republication in book form.—LOS ANGELES NEWS.

THE FLAG is to be trusted as a true Union paper without deceit, which no motive of interest can turn from its course; and which cannot be swayed by favor or intimidated by threat. It is a first-class journal and ought to receive the hearty support of the true Union men of San Francisco and the interior. STOCKTON INDEPENDENT.

We have received the AMERICAN FLAG, published at San Francisco, California. It is printed on a double sheet larger than the New York Tribune, and is by far the ablest and best newspaper in the Golden State.—LITCHFIELD (CT.) ENQUIRER.

THE AMERICAN FLAG is the truest, ablest, and most fearless acienoer of the Union cause in this State. There is no other paper that can be compared with it in any respect whatever, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. IMPORTANT
MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

ELECTRICITY AS A CURATIVE AGENT

When it was proclaimed by the Directors of the Electropathic Institute that disease could be entirely eradicated from the system without the use of poisonous drugs the thoughtless and those who do not look deeply into cause and effect scouted the assertion as chimerical, and wrote articles replete with sophistry, claiming that only through the digestive system could the blood be purged of the poisons which constitute disease; a great cry went up from those interested in the continued supremacy of the old system of one poison to cure another. All of the empirics joined in the chorus, and in their ignorance hailed at the new system, circulating base stories of its illaccess, and quoting imaginary cases as proofs, demonstrated their dishonesty. After five years of uninterrupted success the Electropathetic system is the leading light in medical jurisprudence. While by the old system, physicians are contented to cure one in every five cases, there were those who were diving deep into the science of the curative art; among these were the Electropathist finally, it was discovered that the failure in most of the cases of organic diseases, was entirely due to the medicine. Taking this view of the case, Dr. J. H. Josselyn, after years of experiment, has perfected an Electropathic instrument, which will cure any disease which flesh is heir to, always to be understood that the case is not so far advanced as to show a destruction of the vital tissue. From early morn until late at night, this instrument is employed, imparting health and vigor to all who are so fortunate as to obtain its services. We do not claim that the use of medicines may not be more advantageous in some cases, but, that in connection with machines, it will perform a cure much sooner than without, and also that diseases hitherto deemed incurable, can be cured by this system, but the Directors desire to take this opportunity to inform invalids that the Resident Physician is a regular graduate and has had large experience in the treatment of disease, both with and without the assistance of electricity; he has also discovered several electric Vegetable remedies that will cure almost any nameable disease, which he will send with full instructions for use, to any part of the Pacific coast upon a receipt of a complete description of the disease with which the applicant may be afflicted, and will warrant a complete and perfect cure in all cases where the medicines are used according to directions and more especially all cases of female troubles, where great care and attention are necessary to a speedy result. Diseases (which by the old system) took months, and even years to cure, are now cured in a few days or weeks. The cost, too, is not so great as by the old system, besides the saving of time. Connected with this system are the renowned than which there is no more powerful auxiliary in the world for the radical cure of disease. There is no institute in the United States where the electropathic system is practiced, except at the

Electro Magnetic Baths,

Electropathic Institute,

645 Washington street.

This Institute was established to, if possible prevent the unwitty from falling into those dens of robbery (yclept quack doctor traps,) and hereafter the scientific originators of this Institute will not be to blame if the afflicted are robbed of their money, and injured in constitution. There is another view of the affair. The rising generation should be reared with strong constitutions, and the Directors wish to arouse their guardians to a proper sense of their duties in the premises, if possible to prevent them from stuffing their young charges with deleterious drugs, with a chance of entailing upon the tender constitution just forming, a complication of evils, a thousand times worse than death.

It would be consuming space, to no purpose, to enumerate the diseases to which this system is applicable. suffice it to say, that there is no disease, within the catalogue of human ills but what can be cured at the Electropathic Institute. We have instructed the Resident Physician to warrant a perfect and permanent cure, or ask no pay for services, when in his judgement it is within the bounds of cure.

CAUTION.

Persons seeking the Electropathic Institute, should be careful to remember the name and number,
